Hut Hutton, former Randall County resident and well-known cartoonist, surveys several of his drawings which will begin appearing next week in The Canyon News. The series will feature the businesses, as well as the people who operate the firms. The series will point up the Big Ten Years of Progress, 1950 to 1960, in Canyon and Randall County.

Livestock Group Meeting Called

A meeting of all officers, directors, and members of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association has been called for Tuesday, January 5, to make plans for this year's junior livestock show.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. at Canyon High School, J. I. Fletcher, president of the 240-member organization, said.

New officers and directors also will be elected, committees appointed, and a membership drive launched at the meeting.

Fletcher said this year's show probably will be held just before the Amarillo show.

All members and parents of boys and girls who will be participating in this year's show are urged to attend the Tuesday meeting.

Organizational Meeting Of Posse Set on Monday

The organizational meeting of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the commissioners courtroom at the courthouse, it was announced this week.

Order of business will include the election of officers, establishment of rules and regulations for membership and participation in parades, and the selection of uniforms.

Assistant Auditor Named by Jordan

Appointment of Mrs. Billy Ann Pruet as assistant Randall County auditor has been certified by Judge E. E. "Gene" Jordan of the 47th District Court.

Notice of Jordan's certification, along with an application for the appointment of an assistant auditor, was filed Monday in Randall County Commissioners' Court.

Cummings Files Application
The application was made by E. T. Cummings, county auditor, who stated there was a need for an assistant auditor to perform secretarial and auditing duties. He recommended, and Jordan approved, a salary of $3,000 for Mrs. Pruet.

Mrs. Pruet, 21, is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and is studying shorthand and accounting at West Texas State College's Amarillo Center. She has been employed by three Amarillo firms, according to Cummings' application.

The action was taken under article 1650 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended.

County Roads Impassable
In other action, the county commissioners heard complaints about rural road conditions from a delegation of farmers from the northwest section of the county. Farris Brewer and Cecil Winn were spokesmen for the group, who claimed there is a lower percentage of paved roads in the Bushland area than in any other part of the county.

Dirt roads had been made impassable by recent rains, the delegates said in asking that caliche be put on the roads immediately, to be followed by paving as soon as possible.

C. Y. Johnson, commissioner for the area, refused to discuss possible caliche surfaces because past experience had made him leery of this kind of improvement, he said.

16 Miles Planned
Priority for paving is determined by school bus and mail routes and by traffic counts, Johnson said.

Johnson also pointed out that 16 miles of paving is now in the mill for the area. Part of the planned construction is a section of a 42-mile loop which will completely encircle Amarillo.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens was instructed to write a letter to the Texas Highway Department, requesting that representatives meet with the commissioners to discuss "hazardous" crossovers on Highway 60, just north of Canyon.

Commissioner B. E. McCormick requested the action after pointing out that drivers would have difficulty crossing the four-lane highway when construction is completed.

Water District Election Slated

A Randall County committeeman for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 will be elected January 12.

Nominees for the committeeman vacancy are Joe H. Bernsten and J. R. Parker.

The V.F.W. Hall, located north of Canyon, has been designated as the polling place for eligible voters.

Wayside Reporter Does Last Column

Mrs. W. R. Franklin, who along with her mother has written the Wayside News in The Canyon News for more than 50 years, this week turned in her last column.

Mrs. Ina Kennedy, another resident of Wayside, will send in her first report on Wayside happenings next week.

Mrs. Franklin began writing for The Canyon News while going to school in Fairview, before moving to Wayside. She says she and her mother, the now deceased Mrs. Ida Sluder, "have written the Wayside News for 50 years or more."

Services Slated Today For Home Fire Victim

Funeral services will be held today in Happy for Mrs. Leta Pauline Robinson, 39, who died Monday after her home on the Wayside highway burned to the ground shortly before noon.

Last rites will be held in the First Methodist Church of Happy at 3 p. m. Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor of the church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. U. D. Crosby of Amarillo.

Burial will be in Dreamland

Cemetery, under the direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Canyon.

Mrs. Robinson, wife of John F. Robinson, died in Neblett Hospital at 5:25 p. m. Monday after being discovered by her husband as she lay unconscious in the back yard as the fire within their farm house raged.

Only Collar Remained
Her clothes had been completely burned off, except for the collar on her blouse.

The fire was discovered by Carl Bryan of Happy. He was soon joined by Robinson and Robinson's son, Vance, 8. Mrs. Robinson's body was discovered by her husband.

The Canyon Volunteer Fire Department sped to the scene Monday, but over half of the house was in flames when they arrived. A strong north wind fanned the fire and the flames soon engulfed the entire structure.

No Explosion Evidence

Police officers, who also rushed to the scene, said there was no evidence of an explosion. W. A. "Bill" Wilson, justice of the peace, said glass from the windows was found directly underneath the windows, indicating that there had been no explosion.

In addition to her husband and son, Mrs. Robinson is survived by her mother, Mrs. F. D. Parham of Allen, Okla., four brothers, Rev. Orville Parham of Newkirk, Okla., Gerald Parham of Taft, Calif., and Vernon Parham of California; three sisters, Mrs. H. L. Plunk of Allen, Okla., Mrs. A. L. Cain of California, and Mrs. Cuma Looman of Meadow Vista, Calif.

Pall bearers will be Hoyle Haley, Dean Foster, John Frank Toles, Conway Kuykendall, Tom Henry, Travis Payne, E. W. Wood, and Bob Ed Patching.

Redfearn Services Still Pending Here

Funeral services for Miss Columbia Redfearn, a resident of Canyon for more than 60 years, were still pending at Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel at noon Wednesday.

Miss Redfearn, 82, died at 8 a. m. Tuesday in Neblett Hospital, where she had been since Saturday.

She had lived in Canyon since 1898, and was residing at 200 14th Street.

Miss Redfearn operated The Ladies Store on the east side of the square in Canyon until the late 1930's or early 1940's.

The store was founded by her father, W. J. Redfearn, in 1906, and after he died Miss Redfearn and her sister, Mrs. Ada Redfearn Heyser, operated the business, which specialized in ready-to-wear ladies wear. Mrs. Heyser died in 1928, leaving Miss Redfearn as the sole owner.

A member of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, Miss Redfearn had been treasurer of the Rebekah Lodge for more than 50 years.

Survivors include a brother, Q. C. Redfearn, who lived with his sister; four nieces, Mrs. Charlie Moore of Santa Fe, N. M., Mrs. Mildred Lust of Klamath Falls, Oregon, Mrs. Harry Hughes of

COLUMBIA REDFEARN (in 1939)

Oceanside, Calif., and Mrs. A. C. Echols of Phoenix, Ariz.; and two nephews, Jack Redfearn of Santa Monica, Calif., and Townly Redfearn of San Bernardino, Calif.

Canyon Man Seeks Legislative Office

J. Evetts Haley, Jr., of 2617 Third Avenue in Canyon, has announced his candidacy for the Texas Legislature.

Haley will oppose Ted B. Springer for representation of the 94th electoral district, which includes Randall County.

Haley announced his candidacy with the following statement:

"All the people of this district deserve representation in the Texas Legislature. Not just one minority group, but all — farmers, business, and professional people, capitalists and labor — have a moral and legal right to representation.

"Without obligation or commitment to any man or any group, I would like to represent them all. Therefore, I am a candidate for the Texas Legislature from the 94th electoral district, made up of Armstrong, Carson, Randall, and Potter counties, subject to the choice of all the people in the next Democratic primary.

"In substance, government can only give that which it first takes from the people. There must be limitation on its powers and its levies. As in business, that which is bought must be paid for.

"The wise administration of state affairs essential to our welfare, progress, and freedom can be carried out:

"If the legislator maintains a regard for the Constitutional rights of all individuals.

"If he will balance spending against taxation.

"If he will tax in strict accord with the people's willingness to be taxed — always with equity.

"If he feels a responsibility to ALL the people of his district.

"It is this feeling of responsibility that, I believe, qualifies me for this important post in state government. I offer myself as an independent man for independent people."

A rancher, Haley is 28-years-old and is married to the former Frances Shaller of Canadian. They have two children, James Evetts Haley III, 3, and Mary Ann, 6 months.

He has lived in Canyon most of his life, and is the son of J. Evetts Haley. He attended the University of Texas.

Scouts to Gather Christmas Trees

Explorer scouts of Canyon's Post No. 66 will stage a drive Saturday to collect the discarded Christmas trees in Canyon.

The scouts will collect all trees deposited by trash barrels to use in their conservation program at Camp Don Harrington, east of Canyon.

After collecting the trees, the scouts will plant them in the gulches of the boy scout camp in an attempt to cut down on the erosion of soil.

No Fatal Wrecks Reported in Area

While the death toll throughout the state and nation continued to mount over the Christmas-New Year holiday, city and highway patrolmen report no serious accidents in the Canyon area.

"I'm very proud of the citizens of Randall County," Highway Patrolman Gilbert Ray said Tuesday. "I hope the citizens of this area continue to display the fine cooperation this weekend that they showed during the long Christmas weekend."

Thus far this year there have been 10 persons killed and another 60 injured in 129 auto accidents in Randall County.

Eleven motorists died last year as a result of nine fatal accidents during the Christmas-New Year holiday period in the Department of Public Safety's Region No. 5, which includes Randall County.

Meanwhile, Ray and Highway Patrolman Fred Lenz are continuing "Operation Deathwatch," in an attempt to prevent fatal accidents in this area.

The patrolmen will continue the highway vigil until 11:59 p. m. January 3, 1960, when the Christmas-New Year holiday period officially ends.

Natural Setting Due Senior Play

The seniors of Canyon High School will restage their successful play, "The Night of January 16," for the county March of Dimes — only this time the play will be staged in its natural setting, a courtroom.

The drama will be presented January 8 in the county courtroom, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Foster.

Tickets for the play are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. All proceeds will go toward the county's March of Dimes quota. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

Duane Howard, county campaign director of the March of Dimes, expressed his appreciation to all who are making the event possible.

Leading roles in the performance are held by Carol Jones as Karen Andre, Howard Mundy as the defense attorney, and Bill Cornette as the prosecuting attorney.

Canyon to Close Friday For Holiday, Grid Tilts

Most businesses in Canyon are expected to close Friday for New Year's Day and the many college football bowl games.

The Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has designated January 1 as an official holiday. Most businesses are expected to reopen Saturday, however.

Short Course for Dairymen To Begin Monday at School

A dairy short course for adult farmers will be held January 4 through January 8 at Canyon High School, it was announced this week by Joe A. Gibson, superintendent, and Ed Dwyer, vocational agriculture teacher.

Dr. Ralph Harris, dairy specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Dairy Science at Texas A&M College, will instruct the course. Dr. Harris is headquartered at Texas A&M College.

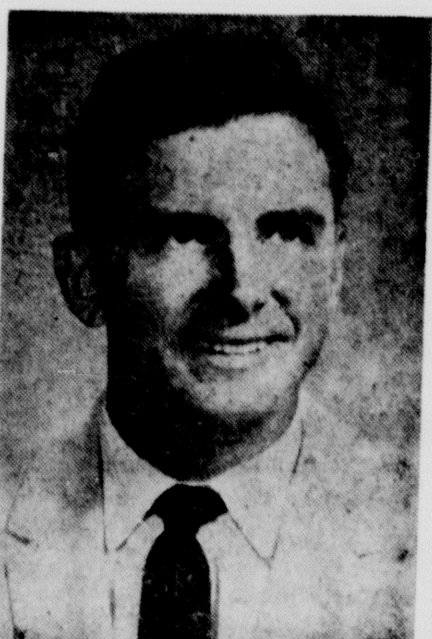

Dr. Harris holds two college degrees in animal nutrition and a doctor's degree in dairy science. He has been prominent in research work in the field of dairy science at Texas A&M and has several years of practical experience in the field of commercial dairying.

Successful Courses

"Many dairy short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Dr. Harris and all have met with outstanding success," Walter Labay of Plainview, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, said.

Arrangements for the adult education short course in dairying and in other fields are made through Labay's office.

The short course here is scheduled to begin January 4 at 8 p. m. in the vocational agriculture building at the high school. Other meetings in the series of five will be held January 5, 6, 7, and 8.

To Assist Dairymen

During the dates the short course is in progress, Dr. Harris will be available to assist dairymen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, Dwyer said.

Dairymen interested in attending the short course should write or call superintendent Gibson or Dwyer. An entry fee of $2 will be charged.

Dairy Short Course Certificates are to be presented to each dairymen who attends all the training sessions.

Covers 7 Subjects

Dr. Harris stated that the short course will be adjusted to the wishes and interests of the dairymen enrolled, but he expects to cover such subjects as developing a good dairy herd, raising cows and heifers, feeding for milk production, making and feeding silage, methods of using milking machines, general management problems, and dairy equipment.

"Short courses in dairying, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the new cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M College," said E. V. Walton, head of the Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M.

"This cooperative program," Walton says, "is designated to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people."

Officials Add To Salaries

Texans should take a long, close look at the activities of several state officials who supplement their salaries with funds which should go for other services.

The latest case in point is the practice followed by O. B. Ellis, manager of the state's prison system, and five other officials connected with the annual prison rodeo at Huntsville.

The Houston Post revealed Sunday that a total of $70,000 from the prison education and recreation fund in five years has gone to supplement salaries of five top prison officials and a rodeo director.

These supplements are in addition to the regular salaries the group receives as state officials.

Bonuses given the six men this year add up to $17,900.

Ellis received $2,500, in addition to his pay of $16,000 a year by the state; Jack Heard, assistant general manager of the prisons, received $2,000, in addition to his salary of $8,100; Byron Frierson, supervisor of livestock and agriculture, received $2,500, in addition to an annual salary of $10,000; A. C. McKain, construction superintendent, received $2,500, in addition to an annual salary of $8,100; Albert Moore, rodeo director, received $3,900, in addition to a salary of $2,661 (the rodeo is staged for four Sundays in October); Richard C. Jones, assistant manager, received $2,000, in addition to an annual salary of $8,100.

In addition, all prison officials receive free housing with all utilities paid, prison-produced food — and prisoners are available as servants.

The prison officials are not breaking any laws by supplementing their salaries with money from the prison education and recreation fund.

So there is no possibility of Ellis and the other officials having the tables turned on them and joining the inmates they are now seeking to rehabilitate. And that might be a good thing.

Ellis has been highly praised for his work in modernizing the Texas prison system and is considered by many as the finest prison administrator in the country.

But it appears that the money which went for supplements should be spent for the purposes which spectators at the annual rodeo intend their money to be spent.

For instance, in the 59-60 budget, $6,000 is earmarked for the education department; $5,000 for the vocational education department; $5,500 for the music department; $800 for photo and art department; $7,500 for capital equipment; and $13,000 for capital improvements.

If Texas prisons are in such excellent shape and are rendering the best service possible to society, then we can understand why the salary supplements are being paid instead of the money being used for prisoner education and recreation. But are they?

The rodeo this year showed a profit net of nearly $124,000. The supplements given the six officials equals nearly 15 percent of the net profits.

If prison officials believe their salaries are too low, the place to get them raised is the Texas legislature. Not from the annual rodeo, which Texans support generously each year because they believe it raises funds for the rehabilitation of prison inmates. (OG)

What Is Good Drama?

The question of government control of television and radio has the members of our federal regulatory bodies worried. Chairman John C. Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission wants to know how the commission could stop murder on "Peter Gunn" and allow it on "Hamlet."

This question is generally answered by the statement that, when Peter Gunn becomes as good literature as Hamlet, it should be permitted on TV. But who shall determine the literary quality of "Peter Gunn"?

Mr. Doerfer himself says that it is "inconceivable to the American people that a governmental agency could be entrusted to sit in judgment as to what constitutes good drama, good music, good and educational programs." It isn't so inconceivable to a sizable element of Americans who may want government control of programming and policing of all advertising. And they want them as steps leading to government operation of all TV and radio. Ultimately, they want the extension of this power to newspapers.

This trend of thought and desire is centered in the varying movement for socialization of our economy and political system in the United States. They see that if they can seize control of all information and educational media, their battle for socializing the country completely will be more than half won.

The best answer to Mr. Doerfer's question is this: No government bureau should be given power of any censorship that cannot be clearly defined in written law enacted by Congress. Undoubtedly Congress would have a great deal of difficulty in defining what is and is not truth, obscenity, etc. But, so long as they have to define it before it can be law, the operators of newspapers, radio and television will not be on the defensive as against arbitrary bureaucratic power. And it is along this line of conflict that the battle will finally be decided.

In the meantime, radio, and television should clean their own houses. If there had been no rigged quiz programs, we would not now be in the midst of the widening investigations of media of information which are bringing up the question of government censorship. (Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

Who'd A Thought It?

As the heat cooled in the U. S. Senate's probe of payola in the disc jockey profession, this interesting note cropped up:

A disc jockey in Oklahoma City reported Sunday that a jazzy little ditty, as sung by Miss Connie Francis, had climbed to the 39th position on the radio stations' poll of top 40 tunes in Oklahoma City.

The name of the song is "God Bless America." (OG)

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner: To refresh memories of our regular subscribers and to acquaint new ones with a standing policy, this will be the last issue of the Banner until January 8, 1960. The reason for this, aside from the fact it gives the staff its only vacation during the year, is that nobody in his right mind is going around to Ralls merchants the day after Christmas and run the risk of being killed for suggesting he spend money for advertising. Many of you haven't observed the terrifying reaction of our local business men to this approach. None of them will have received for Christmas what he thinks he should have received. All will have spent more than they intended. Everything they sold is being returned for credit or exchanged for something cheaper, or for items they don't stock. On top of it all, the clang of the wassail bowl will still be echoing in their ears, and tempers will be as short as an income tax refund check. It will become apparent on December 26 that they haven't made as much money during 1959 as they should have, and the prospect of taking inventory and filling out government forms is sufficient justification for belligerency. Then there is the matter of taxes, dozens of different kinds, to be paid, evaded, or postponed. The erstwhile spirit of Christmas will have given way to snarls, growls and invitations to physical combat at the mere thought of spending money for advertising. The brotherhood of man at this season is something fearful to contemplate! So, we end each year at this one time when everybody's happy and oozing good cheer.

Don Earney in the Wheeler Times: President Eisenhower has suggested lengthening high school a couple of years.

Perhaps local superintendent Arling Cordell has an adequate counter proposal in suggesting that everyone buckle down and make the most of time children are now in school.

Today, a boy generally graduates from high school at 18. Add two more years of high school and he's 20. Another four years of college and he's 24. Two years of military service makes 26.

Now in our age, it takes a master's and often a doctor's degree to get a looksee at many professions. Dentists, pharmacists, geologists, lawyers, soon perhaps school teachers, need the added work.

A doctor's degree adds an almost absolute minimum of four years to a lad's education. So, he's 30 when he gets it. He's 30 years old and has only the hot-house experience of the school-room and army experience, which makes men out of boys.

Added to this, he's invested a staggering sum in education and usually emerges under the false impression that the world owes him a living. His parents are impoverished.

Let's get rid of driftwood in our present educational program, give some healthy homework assignments, de-emphasize campusology and one - arm - driving and not lengthen education requirements more than necessary.

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: Over a big hole in a fender on a 1948 Chevrolet at Mockingbird and Abrams: "OPENED BY MISTAKE."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

Hitching Rails in Murfreesboro Probably Are Used for Just That

By BOYCE HOUSE

The slopes rising from the highway in East Tennessee are, in places, covered with such profuse growth of honeysuckle that only the head of a boy who was walking on a path could be seen.

In a small town, on the courthouse lawn, a marker told that on this spot once stood the tailor shop of Andrew Jackson.

Knoxville has a firm with an unusual name, "Human Furniture Company." Some filling stations there were giving away two pounds of sugar with the purchase of seven gallons of gasoline. A sign in the vicinity of the University of Tennessee reads, "Slow Students Crossing." (We have a few slow students in Texas, too.)

The driver of a bus really has to be an artist at handling the big vehicle. At Knoxville, the space into which each is parked is so small that a man who was sitting sprawlingly on a bench had to be honked at to pull in his feet so the bus could berth.

Along the East Tennessee highway, one is reminded of the hunting prowess of David Crockett by the sight of roadside stands selling furs—foxes, however, not "bars."

A set of guide-posts that rhyme: "McMinnville, Smithville, Nashville, Cookeville," rail fences—I had scarcely seen one since Harding was president—(what a pity, too—I mean that rail fences have almost vanished, also that Harding was ever president); country cemeteries, each grave still adorned with flowers from Memorial Day—although I believe it is called Decoration Day in the Old South.

Murfreesboro has many big, fine homes — in both the old and the new architecture; and the grounds are spacious and beautiful, with ornamental hitching racks—probably not ornamental, either, come to think of it, but actually used, for this is the heart of the Tennessee walking horse country.

In the edge of the city is Stone River. A great battle was fought here in the War between the States. The historians of one side (the North, I believe) call it the Battle of Murfreesboro; the historians of the other side call it the Battle of Stone River. I never knew why; it was the same battle. It was confusing, besides doubling the work of a boy in eighth grade American history.

A similar situation also developed in Virginia, only there actually were two engagements. The Northern writers refer to them as the First and Second Battles of Bull Run; the Southern writers call them First and Second Manassas. Personally, I have always felt that, for once, the Northerners were correct for "Bull Run" certainly suggests the running that the Federals did in that first battle. Some years later, a Union soldier was asked how it was that he had got shot in the face and he replied, "It was at Bull Run and, after several miles, I got careless and looked back." (Let's not talk about how the war finally came out, however.)

Depressions may come and depressions may go, but it never bothers the fellow who feathers his nest—with cash down.

Resident's Father Dies Enroute Home

Memorial services for Rollin Pease, father of Mrs. Ples Harper, will be held tomorrow in Trinity Presbyterian Church in Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. Pease died Monday at Alamogordo, N. M., enroute home after spending the Christmas holidays with Dr. and Mrs. Harper. Interment will be in Highwood Cemetery at Tucson.

Mr. Pease was born July 13, 1879, in Cambridge, Mass. A graduate of Northwestern University, he was head of the voice department at the University of Arizona. He had formerly taught in Fort Worth, Weatherford, Okla., St. Paul, Minn., and Northwestern University.

He married Lena Mason in Eureka, Kans., in 1906.

Mr. Pease was best known as an oratorio singer for his interpretations of the Messiah and the Elijah with the principal choral societies and orchestras of the United States. He was the national historian of Phi Mu Alpha, men's honorary music fraternity, for many years.

Other survivors besides Mrs. Harper are Mrs. Pease, Mrs. George McConnell of Tucson, and five grandchildren.

HD Council to Hold Training Session

The Randall County Home Demonstration Council will meet at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Farm Bureau building for a training session.

Council members and committee members will discuss and plan programs for 1960.

G. B. Combs is spending the holidays in Gruver with his children, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Lowe.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins of Big Spring spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. G. B. Combs. She spent the holidays in Big Spring with the T. B. and J. W. Atkins families.

Ragle Attending Ministerial Meet

The Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is attending a conference on "The Ministry" in Kansas City this week. The meeting is being held on the campus of the National College for Christian Workers and at the National Methodist Theological Seminary. Special consideration will be given to legislation which will be proposed to the General Conference of Methodism, which will be meeting in Denver, Colo., in April, 1960.

The other delegate from this area of Texas is Dr. George J. Steinman of McMurry College in Abilene. Rev. Ragle was designated to attend the three day meeting since he is now serving in his sixth year as chairman of the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualification of the Northwest Texas Conference.

Rev. Ragle will be returning Thursday evening and will be in his pulpit Sunday at the 8:30 and 10:50 a. m. services. He will be preaching on the topic "Majoring in the Majors in 1960" and at the 7 p. m. service his topic will be "The Long Look."

Rotary to Hear Rail Executive

Patrick H. Hill, traveling representative of the public relations department for the Santa Fe Railway, will speak to the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday on "What's Happening to Free Enterprise."

Hill has been active in the communications field since 1935. He is a native of Virginia and was educated in schools in Elmira, N. Y., and the University of Buffalo, N. Y. During World War II, he served in Air Force Intelligence in the European Theatre.

Before joining the Santa Fe Railway in 1957, Hill was an advertising and public relations counselor in Albuquerque, his home.

Before moving to the Southwest in 1947, he worked in the radio and motion picture industries on the East and West Coasts and in Chicago.

A Rotarian, Hill is a member of the Railroad Public Relations Association and the New Mexico Public Relations Conference. Since his affiliation with Santa Fe, he has made a number of talks before civic, chambers of commerce, and trade organizations in the Southwest.

Visitors Honored At Foster Coffee

A coffee honoring Mrs. Clay Perkins of San Diego and Mrs. Kemper Perkins of Austin was held Monday morning in the home of Mrs. Lee Foster.

Mrs. Clay Perkins is the former Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett.

The serving table, laid with a white lace-trimmed cloth, was centered with a white and gold Christmas tree surrounded by angel hair accented with golden balls.

About 20 persons called.

Some European Countries Exchange Gifts to Herald Start of New Year

Not everyone celebrates the beginning of the New Year on January 1. But people in all parts of the world have special customs to insure that the New Year will get off to a good start.

Church services and frantic parties, for example, are typical ways of celebrating in the U. S.

In many European countries, gifts are exchanged on New Year's Day. The custom originated with the Romans, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Started in 747 B.C.

Back in 747 B.C., reportedly, they presented the king of the Sabines with branches of bay and palm trees consecrated to Strenia, the goddess of strength. The "strenae," or gifts, became more elaborate, in expectation of royal favor, and the emperors came to regard them as deserved tribute.

Augustus is said to have passed the word along that he had had a vision in which he saw himself receiving gifts from the Senate and the people on January 1. Claudius finally stopped the influence-peddling by limiting the cost of gifts.

Cromwell Ends Custom

Henry III introduced the custom into England in the 1200's, and Elizabeth I collected enough loot to replenish her wardrobe for a year. The custom went out with Oliver Cromwell.

In Scotland, bad luck is in store for a family if the first person to set foot in the house on New Year's Day is a woman, or a gravedigger, or a person who walks with his toes turned in, or a man with red or blonde hair.

To minimize the risk, the Scots appoint a tall, dark man as the "first-footer." On New Year's Day he enters each house in silence, places a bundle of fagots on the fire, then wishes the family good luck.

Even the poorest Chinese buy new shoes for the holiday, because it is bad luck to step down on the ground into old shoes on New Year's Day.

And the Portuguese ignore their debts, because the man who pays a bill on this day will pay out money all year.

The Brazilians open the New Year by expressing the hope of all men—they designate January 1 as the Day of Universal Brotherhood.

Commission OKs Hunting of Quail At Matador Site

AUSTIN—Quail hunters will be the first to benefit from the recent purchase by the Game and Fish Commission of part of the old Matador Land and Cattle Company property in Cottle County.

A limited quail season on the property was announced by the assistant executive secretary late last week. Within 24 hours all available reservations for the hunt were taken.

The area is located 11 miles northwest of Paducah. Although a management program is being developed, it was decided to permit hunters to harvest some of the quail now on the property.

Hunting will be permitted on January 2, 3, 4, 9, 10, and 16.

The reservations provide that persons should hunt in pairs, and that not more than 10 pairs of hunters per day can be accommodated.

The bag limit on the area is 15 birds per day. Both blues and bobs are available on the Matador ranch.

MRS. DAVID HAWKINS

Virida Jean Carter Becomes Bride Of David Hawkins in Holiday Rites

Virida Jean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clin Carter of Kress, became the bride of David Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawkins, in a ceremony performed December 20 at 3 p. m. in the Whitfield Baptist Church near Kress.

The Rev. C. A. Butler, pastor, read the double ring service before an archway of clustered tropical greenery flanked on each side by floor basket bouquets of white mums and pom-poms with three branch candelabra entwined with silver cords completing the altar setting.

Mrs. Carol Stark, pianist, played a medley consisting of "I Love You Truly," "Because," "With These Hands," "O Promise Me," and "Indian Love Call" as the guests assembled. Traditional wedding marches were played.

Cousin Attends Bride

Sheryl Jo Garner, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor and wore a brown creptallene dress designed with scoop neckline and full street-length skirt. She wore a matching bandeau and carried a nosegay of white carnations with satin streamers.

Alan Ray Hawkins attended his brother as best man.

Candlelighters were Dwight Carter, brother of the bride, and Don Hawkins, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Wayne Carter and Phil Hawkins, also brothers of the bride and bridegroom respectively.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Bill Knighton of Canyon sang "Always," and, as the bride was given in marriage by her father, he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Bows Accent Waistline

The bride was attired in a full length gown of white satin styled with a fitted empire waist accented with braid and seed pearls. The skirt hung in box pleats. Tiny satin covered buttons extended down the back to the waistline which was accented by a huge satin bow with streamers extending down the back. The sleeves were tapered to a point over her hands.

Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls accented with tear drop pearls. For something old and borrowed she carried a wedding ring belonging to her mother; something new was a strand of pearls with matching ear clips, a gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white orchid with satin streamers and love knots.

Wears Brown Dress

The bride's mother wore a navy blue silk dress with white accessories. Her corsage was a white feathered carnation. The bridegroom's mother wore a brown brocade taffeta dress with mauve accessories. Her corsage was of matching feathered carnations.

The reception was held in the country home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid with a hand crocheted cloth centered with the maid of honor's bouquet flanked by candles in crystal holders. The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Sandra Linecum and punch was ladled by Virginia Landers.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a green sheath dress with jacket complimented by the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Couple Visiting Relatives

After a short wedding trip the couple are visiting relatives until January 4 when they will leave for Fort Belvoir, Va., where David is stationed with the U. S. Army.

The bride is a graduate of Kress High School and has attended West Texas State College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Canyon High School and has attended WT.

Attending the wedding from Canyon were Judge and Mrs. D. P. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morrison and Gene V., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williams, Janet and Diane, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brasher and Jimmy.

Collector Canyon Independent School District
Office in the Court House

A gallant lady died in our town recently. The calendar said she was 77, and her frail body was, I guess. But not her heart. It was young and eager. And her mind reached out hungrily for new ideas.

She had been a widow for about 15 years when she died. Not many persons outside of her church even knew her. We didn't know her when she first faced the prospect of solitude for the rest of her life. But at 67, she had found herself. She began taking piano lessons, and after six months gave a recital, just as the other 'pupils' did. At 70, she signed up for a writing course. She had things to say, and her education had been sketchy. Along in those years, too, she listened to every radio and TV program that came to her attention — about mental health, the Far East, social welfare, and other broad fields of information. She went to lectures, too, if they were free.

Her budget was modest. She lived alone in a small cottage, just two blocks from the church where her life really centered. She read the church literature avidly, and accepted all requests to take part in study programs. She said she learned more about a subject if she had to retell it publicly.

When she got "a little older," and couldn't go so much at night, she joined a golden age group. She enjoyed it some, but said she had "rather talk than play games, and most of them talk only about themselves; not about all the interesting things that happen in the world."

She learned the real secret of happy living — listening, learning, doing — reaching out always for new goals. We salute her courageous spirit!

MRS. BOB B. HENSLEY

Betsy Callarman, Bob B. Hensley Married in Double Ring Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church December 27 at 5 p. m., Miss Betsy Callarman of Canyon became the bride of Bob B. Hensley of Amarillo. Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Callarman, 2411 Eleventh Avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hensley, 3304 Martin Road, Amarillo.

The Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, pastor, officiated before an altar decorated with poinsettias. Tall candelabra trimmed with green leaves and white bows and holding red tapers were used on either side of the altar. A white kneeling bench completed the setting.

Traditional Music Used

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, organist, played traditional wedding music throughout. Wade Moore of Amarillo, accompanied by Don Armstrong on the piano, sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Jim Callarman, brother of the bride, was candlelighter. Christy Prichard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Prichard, was flower girl, and wore white embroidered organza with red velvet sash. She carried a white basket trimmed with red carnations and white ribbons. Tom Callarman was ring bearer.

Maid of honor was Darla Hensley, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a bouffant red taffeta street-length dress trimmed in red velvet and carried white poinsettias tied with red ribbon. She wore white accessories.

Dennis Glass of Amarillo was best man.

Brothers Usher

Sharing the ushering duties were John Callarman, Don Callarman, Bill Callarman, all brothers of the bride, and James Hensley, brother of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pleated Alencon lace with a floral design embroidered in sequins and seed pearls around the neck. She wore white elbow length lace mitts and carried a white prayer book with two white poinsettias with white streamers and tiny gold balls that picked up the gold of her great-grandmother's brooch which she wore for "something old."

Her veil fell from a cap edged in ruching and embroidered in sequins and edged in seed pearls.

Mrs. Callarman chose a dark blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of white mums, while Mrs. Hensley wore a pale blue wool outfit with navy accessories and a corsage of white mums.

Reception Follows

A reception followed in Fellowship Hall, with Mrs. M. S. Downing in charge. Miss Rita Grabbe had the guest book. Mrs. A. K. Goodman poured punch, and Mrs. T. V. Crounse served cake. They were assisted by Mrs. Herschel Coffee, Mrs. D. A. Prichard, Mrs. W. A. Haggard, Mrs. Doyle Ragle, and Mrs. Charles Gorton. Miss Dorothy Higdon furnished background music.

The couple are making their home at 1105 Third Avenue. Mrs. Hensley is a sophomore at West Texas State College, where she is majoring in art and elementary education. She is a member of Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society and Zeta Tau Alpha, national social sorority. Mr. Hensley is a freshman business major at WT.

Washington Report

TV Quiz Mail

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

The hearings which were recently concluded concerning the television quiz shows in the Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, of which I am a member, resulted in a considerable amount of mail to my office from all over the country.

I received correspondence from 29 states, and it would be a close race as to whether California or New York expressed themselves the most. The substance of the correspondence varied to such a degree, I thought you might be interested in some of the reactions throughout the U. S. which were addressed to me.

Many of the people who wrote offered helpful suggestions and observations. Some of the correspondents were obviously not aware of the legislative purposes which prompted the hearings. As usual, the most thoughtful and studied comments which came to me on the subject were from Texas and specifically from the 18th Congressional District.

'Rogers for President'

Most of the writers expressed a real concern that a regulatory agency of the government had allowed a situation to develop whereby frauds were perpetrated on a public medium belonging to all the people. The expressions varied all the way from one man who advocated my candidacy for the presidency to those who think I am a despicable conniver.

With the thought you might find them of interest, here are excerpts from some of the correspondence:

"The TV quiz scandals have exposed a shabby situation and I, for one, do not go along with the 'so what' attitude of some smart and cynical people. TV ought to be more than an opportunity for a lot of crummy little chiselers and petty swindlers to make a dishonest dollar. I hope that Congress will enact some legislation that will restore TV as a medium of entertainment, information and education. Mere legislation against the fakers and cheaters will not do the public or TV much good." —Va.

'Why All the Fuss?'

"Why all the fuss about the TV quiz shows? The contestants won money, the viewers were highly entertained, so why the hub-bub?" —Calif.

"In my opinion, quiz TV shows are the very best on TV. Reason: They are interesting and entertaining, and at the same time informative and instructive, in good taste, and you see new faces (amateurs) not just the same performer singing another song or acting silly. How they are produced is not important." —Calif.

"PS. Forgot to say why do they put a good show like _____ on after 11? Working men can't take it staying up so late, if you can't help, can you tell me some one who can?" —Fla.

Becoming Big Cynic

"I do not approve of the cheating methods used by the quiz programs, but not too strenuously — after all, it was entertainment and most entertainment is all, or part, legerdemain and it harms no one but the idol himself. But false advertising is another matter — that affects everyone! In past years I have been the victim of so much 'sucker' advertising that I am fast becoming the world's biggest cynic. I don't believe anything I see or hear, anymore. I am always looking for the 'catch' in everything, no matter how sincere it appears. Some one removed the white coats from the quack doctors in medical commercials, now please remove the quackery from ALL advertising." —W. Va.

"These people . . . have given me many happy hours of entertainment, and many hours of beautiful dreams, also the wonderful knowledge that this is or was? a land where miracles could happen to anyone. Is it any of your business that they cribbed? Can you say that you never did? I can't, and I was the brightest pupil in my school." —Mich.

"As a college teacher I schedule my televisioning very closely, but from time to time I will flip the dial to see if there may be something of value coming over the airwaves. Most heartily I applaud your efforts and the aims of your committee on Legislative Oversight to clear out the quiz 'fixes' which have had a bad enough effect on our youth and adult population." —N. J.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As the year draws to a close, it's hard to look backward for looking forward to what so many are sure will be the "silver-lined sixties."

But 1959 was an eventful year. Some of the biggest Texas headlines centered on these happenings:

Speaker's Race

Suspense became almost unbearable in a hard fought, down-to-the-wire speaker's race. Waggoner Carr won a second term, 79-71, over challenger Joe Burdett. Now the race is on again with Reps. Wade Spilman of McAllen and James Turman of Goben contending for the job in '61.

Tax Bill

It took a marathon meeting of the Legislature from January until August — before agreement could be reached on a $185,000,000 new tax bill. Lawmakers faced, not only the need to cover a $2-418,000,000 budget for the 1959-61 biennium, but a dismaying $65,000,000 deficit.

Biggest bones of contention were two of Gov. Price Daniel's key proposals: the abandoned property tax, which did not pass; and the severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, which did. Three-fourths of the new revenue comes from selective sales taxes. A number of old sales levies, on autos, cigarettes and liquor, were upped. New ones, including furs, jewelry, air conditioners, phonographs, hotel and motel rentals, were added.

Signals Changed

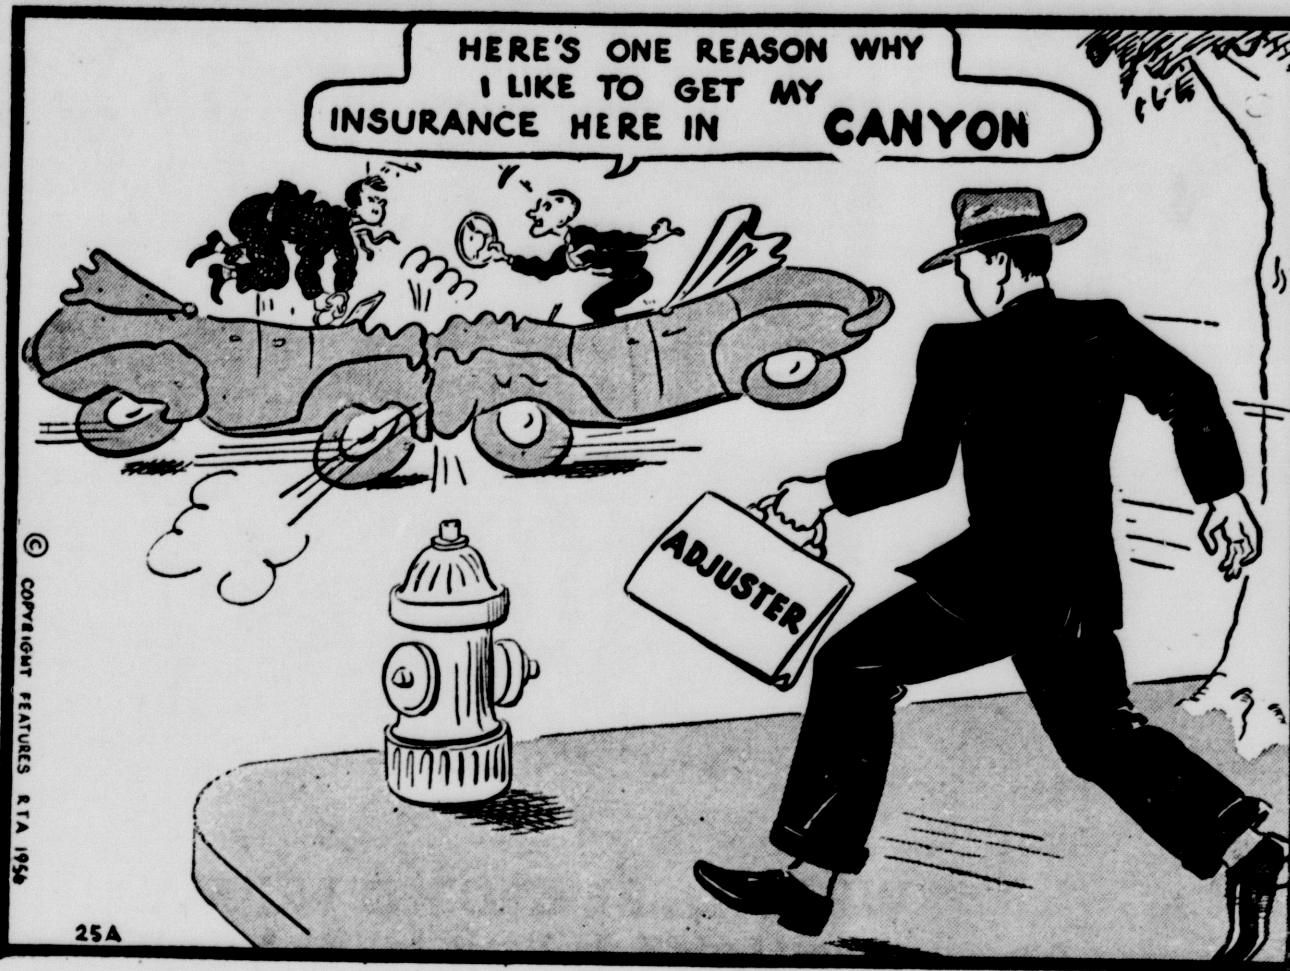

Though it was primarily a "tax session," Legislature passed a number of other laws with wide public effect. Political primaries and conventions will be held in May and June, instead of July and August. Boat owners must register their craft, observe certain safety regulations. City firemen and policemen won shorter hours, and city administrative officials grumblingly juggled their budgets to meet the extra cost. Truckers finally passed a bill they'd been pushing for some years to raise the truck load limit from 58,400 to 72,000 pounds.

Teacher Pay

Question of whether a fourth special session should be called to raise money to increase teachers' salaries was posed but not answered in '59. Governor Daniel said he would leave it to the people to decide. Thus far the decision is not known, except that the governor said if he calls a session, it will not begin until after the February 1 filing deadline for public office.

By RALPH TEE

Tidelands

Texas officials went before the U. S. Supreme Court again to fight for state ownership of the tidelands. Texas claims it owns the submerged lands for 10 1/2 miles out. U. S. Attorney General says state ownership extends only three miles. High court's decision is awaited.

New Buildings

A big part of Texas government picked up and moved this past fall from rented quarters scattered over Austin into three new state buildings. Texas Employment Commission Building, State Office Building and State Courts Building were completed within a few months of each other. Earlier the Health Department expanded into a new building. A State Archives Building is in construction, and an Insurance Building is on the drawing board.

Auto Insurance Rates

State Board of Insurance announced new auto insurance rates designed to put the burden of expense on the drivers who have the accidents. Plan has stirred up a beehive of controversy. But it is to go into effect, as scheduled, January 1.

LBJ For President

State politics was almost swept aside after Speaker Sam Rayburn announced a Lyndon Johnson for President campaign. Texas party leaders took up the banner, and Johnson clubs spread across the state, covering, at last count, 191 counties. Senator Johnson says he is not a candidate for president. But he has criss-crossed the state in an energetic "re-election" campaign.

Election Campaigns

Politicking was rampant as the year ended, but very few candidates have paid their filing fees for statewide offices. Some put off filing until January to avoid competing with Christmas for public attention. Others are awaiting for Governor Daniel to say whether he will seek a third term before they decide whether to stay put or try to move up.

Oil Still Trickling

Texas oil wells will flow only 10 days in January. This production pattern, the same as during December, was ordered by the Railroad Commission after major purchasers' requests ranged from 9 to 11 days.

Three Million Jobs

Texas will enter the 'sixties with more than 3,000,000 employed in non-farm jobs. Employment gained 7,000 over November to push the total at mid-December to 2,999,800, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Another Tax Study

State taxes will undergo another study by a nine-member legislative and layman committee. Particular attention will be directed at property taxes and the new taxes adopted in the recent sessions.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, who was chairman of the tax study committee for the past two years, was named to head the new effort. Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio will again be vice chairman as before. A layman, John McKee of Dallas, will also serve again in his previous role as secretary.

Other members of the committee are Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas; Sen. Louis Crump, San Saba; Rep. Gordon Bristow, Big Spring; Rep. V. L. (Bo) Ramsey, Beckville; Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo; Dr. John R. Stockton of Austin.

Hearings will again be heard over the state as during the past two years. They will begin early in 1960.

Texas Cities Self-Reliant

Cities of only four other states are more self reliant than Texas cities, according to a study by the Texas Municipal League.

State assistance to Texas cities amounts to 3.1 percent of the expenditures of municipal government. States in which the percentage is lower are Missouri, 3 percent; Kentucky, 1.3 percent; Montana, 0.9 percent; and West Virginia, 0.4 percent. National average is 16 percent.

Insurance Plan Hit

You may pay more, or less, for your automobile insurance after January 1. Everything hinges on your driving record. But the new system is being challenged.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo has leveled a barrage of criticism at the merit rating plan. Under the system, drivers are assessed rate increases for accidents and moving traffic violations occurring during the three years pre-

Rainbows Hold Friendship Tea

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER EXECUTION

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF RANDALL, IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF RANDALL COUNTY, TEXAS, HIGHLAND HOMES, INC., PLAINTIFF, VS. LILLIE RUTH MILLER, a widow, DEFENDANT:

WHEREAS by virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court of Randall County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said Court on the 25th day of November, 1959, in favor of the said Highland Homes, Inc., and against the said Lillie Ruth Miller, a widow, No. 3626 on the docket of said Court, I did on the 21st day of December, 1959, at 4:15 o'clock P. M., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in the County of Randall, State of Texas, and belonging to the said Lillie Ruth Miller, a widow, to-wit:

Lot Number Eleven (11) in Block Number Twelve (12) of the GABLES NUMBER ONE ADDITION to the City of Amarillo, Randall County, Texas, according to the recorded map or plat thereof.

Being the same land described in a certain instrument now of record in the office of the County Clerk of Randall County, Texas, in Volume 98, on page 681, of the Deed of Trust Records of Randall County, Texas, to which record reference is here made.

and on the 2nd day of February, 1960, being the first Tuesday of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on said day, at the court house door of said County, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said Lillie Ruth Miller, a widow, in and to said property.

Dated at Canyon, Texas, this 21st day of December, 1959.
L. S. JOHNSTON
Sheriff of Randall County, Texas
